LIQUOR WINES

Typical Craftsmanship Associated with the Wine Regions of Southern Catalonia, Tarragona, and Priorat. These regions are integral to the history of De Muller, a company internationally recognized for its reputation in producing sweet and rancio wines.

Oxidative wines, whether sweet or dry, are typically enjoyed with desserts or as digestifs. However, they are highly versatile and can pair remarkably well with a variety of surprising combinations, including appetizers. They are cherished choices in haute cuisine and also find applications in culinary creations.
